

Platinum Business Services LLC Announces the Launch of Three New Partner Companies: Cyber Sparc AI, Alpha X AI, and Duality Q

December 23, 2025 (Catonsville, MD)

Platinum Business Services LLC (Platinum) is proud to announce the official launch of three innovative partner companies Cyber Sparc AI, Alpha X AI, and Duality Q, expanding its growing ecosystem of technology-driven solutions designed to support federal agencies and commercial clients. These new entities reflect Platinum's continued investment in advanced technologies and its commitment to accelerating mission success across emerging domains.

Cyber Sparc AI will focus on next-generation cybersecurity and automated defense capabilities, delivering AI-powered threat detection, continuous monitoring, and intelligent incident response. Alpha X AI will specialize in advanced artificial intelligence solutions, machine learning integration, and intelligent automation to help organizations optimize operations and uncover deeper insights. Duality Q will advance quantum-aligned technologies, supporting quantum computing research, simulation, and hybrid quantum-classical applications that prepare customers for the next era of digital transformation.

Together, these companies strengthen Platinum's position as a leader in innovative, future-ready solutions and underscore its mission to drive cutting-edge capabilities across the federal landscape.
